FOREWORD

WE wish to present to you fellow students this
1931 COLONIAL ECHO
It has been our endeavor to publish an interesting book, to build a memory not for the present but for the future, one that will recall many happy hours spent at

ROBERT M. NEWTON, '16 Hampton, Va.
G. W. GUY, '02, Executive Sec. . Williamsburg, Va.

In the certificate of incorporation of the Alumni Association of the College of William and Mary in Virginia, Article 3 gives the purposes of the Association as:

The purposes for which the Association is formed are to aid, strengthen and expand in every proper and useful way the College of William and Mary in Virginia and its work, and to develop, strengthen, and utilize the bonds of interest, sympathy and affection existing between the said college and its alumni, and among the alumni themselves.

The Alumni Association is fast becoming a very important part of the organization of the College. In fact, it is one of the four wheels upon which it runs. We have our Presidents, and Board of Managers, Faculty and Student Body, and the Alumni Association.

The plan is to organize William and Mary Chapters in every city and county of Virginia and in every state in the Union, for in every state William and Mary alumni are found and we usually have among them leaders of our various civic and educational groups.

If you are interested in a William and Mary Club in your community write to Geo. W. Guy, executive secretary of the Alumni Association, Williamsburg, Va.

Alma Mater

Hark! The students' voices swelling,
Strong and true and clear;
Alma Mater's love they're telling,
Ringing far and near.

Chorus

William and Mary, loved of old,
Hark upon the gale,
Hear the thunder of our chorus,
Alma Mater—Hail!

All their sons are faithful to thee
Through their college days;
Singing loud from hearts that love thee
Alma Mater's praise.

Iron shod or golden sandaled
Shall the years go by—
Still our hearts shall weave about thee
Love that cannot die.

God our father, hear our voices,
Listen to our cry.
Bless the college of our boyhood,
Let her never die.

CAPTAIN JAMES MURPHY

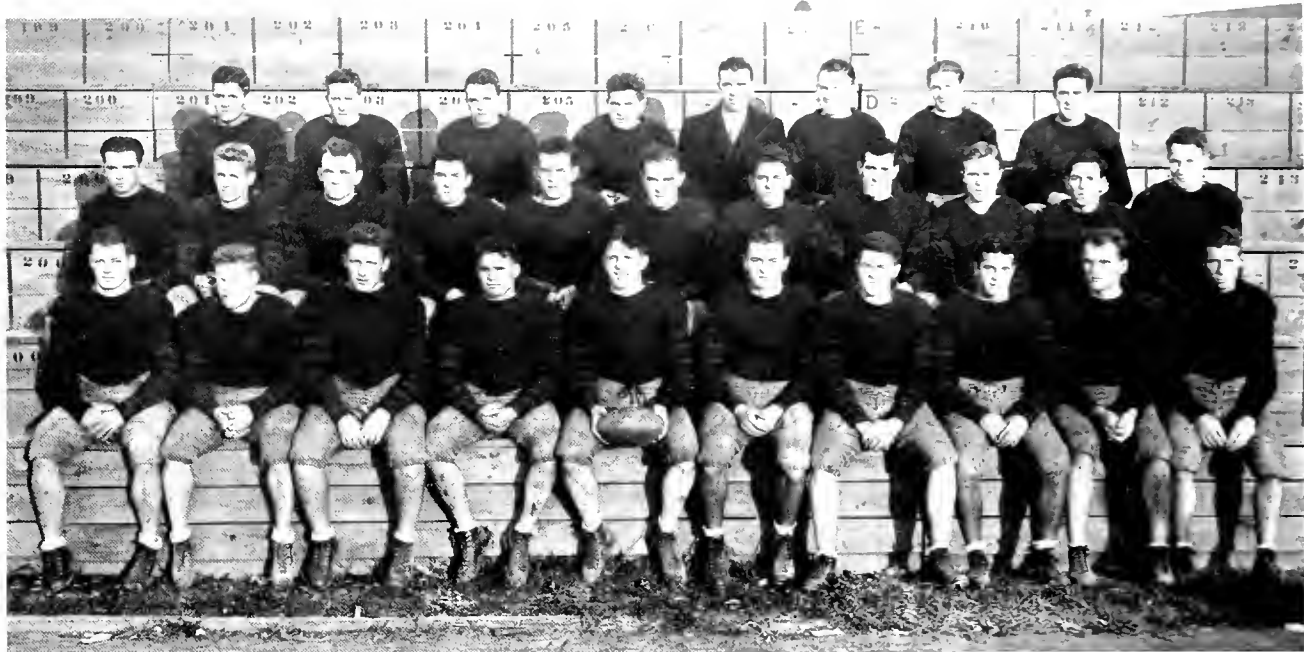

James Murphy, captain of one of the best football teams ever to represent William and Mary, came to W. & M. from Boston Trade School, where he was an all-round athlete in football, swimming, and baseball. He has been one of the backbones in William and Mary lines for four years and his graduation in June leaves a big hole at tackle for Coaches Kellison and Fetaer to fill.

After making the grade in football his first year, he continued athletic participation in swimming, a sports program which he carried out during his sophomore year. After a brilliant season as a member of the '29 football club, his efforts were rewarded, as he was elected a member of the All-Virginia football club. He was again All-State in 1930, after leading his team to the Virginia Conference championship, and a spectacular draw with Harvard University, the latter being one of the most outstanding accomplishments to be found in W. & M. gridiron events.

Murphy was one of the few men to make Omicron Delta Kappa in his junior year and in his senior year he was made Judge of the annual Supreme Court activities. He is also a member of Lambda Chi Alpha.

William and Mary opened the season's campaign with a victory over Guilford College of North Carolina, 24-0. The following Saturday the team journeyed to Annapolis and met the Navy, losing a hard-fought game by the count of 19-6. Bill Scott running fifty-five yards for the lone W. & M. score. Wofford was the next victim of the tricolor, the latter easing out a 19-0 decision. V. P. I. eked out a close win over the Indians, 7-6, after the W. & M. outfit had come back in the second half on a fifty-yard touchdown jaunt by Constantino. The Silver and Gold had the ball on the Gobbler's 10-yard line when the final whistle blew. Bridgewater provided little opposition for the entire William and Mary squad, losing 81-0. The club next journeyed to Cambridge, Massachusetts, only to be tied by Harvard, 13-13, in as tight a ball game as Stadium patrons have ever witnessed. The game was a real thriller and was decided only in the final minutes of the game. Emory and Henry, considered to be the outstanding challenger of the Indians for the Conference pennant, fell before the relentless attack, 27-0, as did Roanoke, 39-0. The final two games resulted in victories over Richmond and Hampton-Sidney by respective scores of 19-0 and 13-0.

The Harvard contest was by far the outstanding fray of the season, after having Harvard score in the first three minutes of the game on an eighty-yard run, the Indians came back fighting not only to tie the Crimson, but to take the lead. Maxey took a pass from Halligan, and ran through several Harvard men to score. Mozeleski put the club in the lead by kicking the extra point. In the second quarter, Halligan intercepted one of the famous Harvard laterals and ran thirty-five yards to give the Indians a 13-6 lead at the halt. Harvard tied the score on a lucky touchdown in the last few minutes of the game.

There were several outstanding accomplishments made by the members of the club. Captain Murphy and Maxey were placed on the All-Virginia team, while Mozeleski and Meade made the second All-State team. Syer, Douglas, and Paxson received honorable mention. In the All-Conference selection no less than six William and Mary men made the grade, including Captain Murphy, Captain-elect Douglas, Halligan, Maxey, Mozeleski, and Meade. Halligan was the only Virginia player to receive honorable mention for the All-American.

During the season, the Indians scored 647 points to her opponents' 39. "Red" Maxey scored 99 points to lead the state in scoring for the second year. In the Conference games, not a single opponent was able to score a point and added with two shutout victories over Guilford and Wofford.

CAPTAIN MITCHELL MOZELESKI

"Mitch" Mozeleski, a product of Camden High School, New Jersey, entered William and Mary in 1927, with an enviable athletic record. Playing guard on the varsity in his freshman year, he assisted William and Mary in garnering its first state basketball title, in 1928.

For three years, "Mitch" has been the nucleus around which strong William and Mary quints have been built, and his stellar playing in 1930 placed him on the All-State team. Mozeleski was elected captain of the Indian quint for 1930, and was re-elected to lead the team in 1931. William and Mary enjoyed a most successful season under his fine leadership and succeeded in winning the Virginia Conference title.

Captain Mozeleski, besides captaining two successful Indian quints, was again chosen All-State guard this year—a most enviable record. He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and was elected to Omicron Delta Kappa in his junior year.

BASKETBALL

The William and Mary basketball club won the Virginia Conference title for the second successive year by defeating Randolph-Macon in the final fray of the season, 39-27. As was the case last year, the two teams entered the contest tied for the league lead, the Indians decisively defeated the Ashland representatives after the latter had beaten the Braves earlier in the season.

The records show that the Indians won twelve out of the fifteen fray, losing but one game in the conference loop. At no time during the season was the team completely outclassed.

After losing the Navy game in December, the team didn't engage in any more contests until a week after the return to school following the Christmas holidays, when they met and defeated Emory and Henry, 40-16. A second breach in the campaign was caused by the term examinations, at the conclusion of which the Indians lost a heart-breaker to the University of Virginia. An easy victory over the Medical College team followed the Virginia defeat, the Braves winning as they pleased, 48-22. The second Conference win came at the expense of Hampton Sidney, 31-21. Then came the battle with the Yellow Jackets, who put the bee on the Indians, 28-24.

The team then took their trip to the western part of the state. Bridgewater fell before the fast attack of the invaders, 30-27. On the following night Washington and Lee ran up the highest score of the season on the Indians, winning 44-31. The two remaining teams played on the trip were victims of the avenging warriors, Roanoke and V. M. I. losing by respective scores, 40-21 and 29-28. The team ran their winning streak, which proved to be an uninterrupted one for the remainder of the year, to four games, by taking Bridgewater and Richmond into camp, 33-25 and 40-10. The Richmond win was one of the most decisive victories ever recorded in the history of the ancient rivalry, the spiders failing to score a single basket in the first half and trailing at half time, 25-3. William and Mary's chance at the title came as the result of Randolph-Macon's defeat at the hands of Lynchburg, which gave both clubs one loss in ten conference starts. The Indians held the lead for the majority of the games, the Jackets tying the count at 26-all in the final stage, only to have the Braves take thirteen out of the final sixteen points scored.

Captain Mitchel Mozeleski, serving in the leadership role for the second year in succession, was named on the All-State basketball team, Lawrence Shaffer receiving honorable mention. Frank Mozeleski was the team's highest scorer, massing a total of 127 points, the results of fifty baskets and twenty-seven fouls.

CAPTAIN JAMES WALLACE

Jimmy Wallace came to William and Mary from Maury High in 1926, after helping the Justices win several state championships. For three years he pitched Indian nines to victory over some of the best teams in the East. Wallace's twirling figured materially in the winning of the state championship by William and Mary in 1929.

As a reward for his fine work in the box and sterling qualities as a player, he was elected to captain the 1929 Indian nine. Under his excellent generalship, William and Mary enjoyed one of its most successful seasons on the diamond, winning the Virginia Conference championship.

Climaxing a great athletic year, the Indian baseball team brought William and Mary its fourth Virginia Conference championship for 1930. Playing through a difficult season of twenty-one games, the ball team succeeded in winning fifteen victories, some of which were over the best teams in the East.

Such teams as Harvard; Princeton, whom the Indians defeated twice; Boston College, the Eastern Intercollegiate champions; and the University of Virginia bowed to the Green Sox during the season. CAPTAIN MARSHALL BAGGETT Marshall Baggett, captain of the 1930 track outfit, came to William and Mary in the fall of 1927, after graduating from Alexander High School, where he had established himself as being one of the best schoolboy runners in the South. He captained his track team at the latter institution for two years, and held the South Atlantic record for the low hurdles.

In his first year at William and Mary, he was a member of the Varsity and Freshman relays. The following year he remained out of school, but on his return in '29 he sprang into prominence as a member of the '29 track aggregation, running the quarter and the hurdles. During this season, he set the Virginia Conference record for 440 yards, negotiating the distance in 50.4 seconds. Previous to the 1930 season, a bad knee necessitated an operation, which handicapped him somewhat during the spring campaign, but he continued to run the quarter and the hurdles in good fashion. He was also a member of the mile relay team, which placed second in the Millrose Games in '31.

Baggett is a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, president of the Dramatic Club, sports editor of the "Colonial Echo" for 1931, and was president of the Athletic Council and assistant sports editor of the "Flat Hat" in 1929.

VARSITY RELAY

Track, 1930

Coach Scrap Chanler's 1930 edition of the Indian Track team led by Captain Marshall Baggett and augmented by a great array of runners and field-event men, romped through last spring's most difficult season of seven meets with but two defeats.

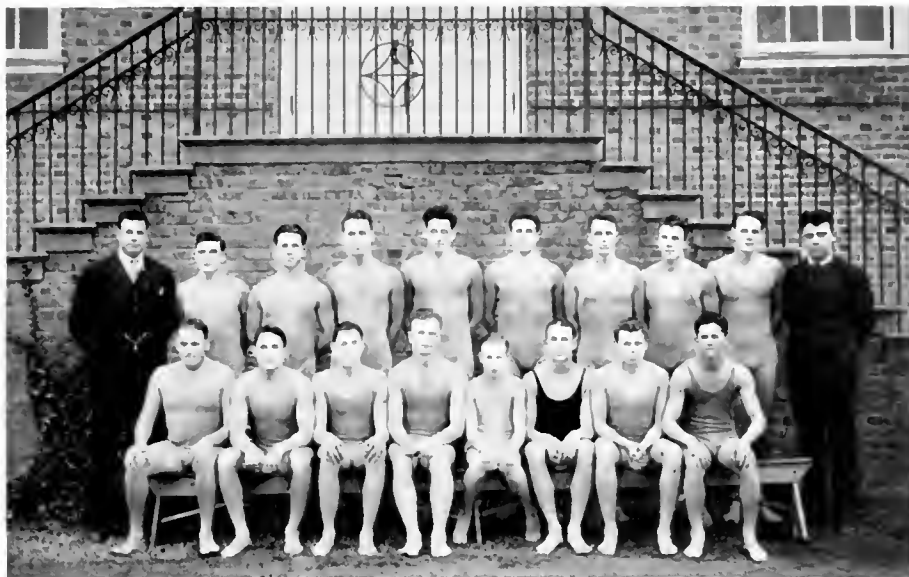

Two college records were lowered and one tied during the season. Johnson sent the half-mile mark down to 1:56.9, Levin boosted the high-jump record up to 5'10 $\frac{1}{2}$ ", and Smither equalled the 220 time of 22 flat. Scott ran the century three times in 10 flat and once in the Virginia Conference meet in 9.9 seconds.

The outstanding events of the season were Harvard's visit in the early spring, and the massacre the Indians made of the Virginia Conference meet. Harvard trained here for a week as the guests of the Redmen before their meet, and William and Mary piled up 101 $\frac{1}{2}$ points to literally, figuratively, and physically run away with the Conference championship.

Harvard hindered the season at the start by its rather pronounced victory, but the Indians came back strong to win the next two meets from V. P. I. and Haverford. Navy proved to be the only other obstacle of the season, as the Richmond, Maryland, and Conference meets were all won by good margins.

In their seven meets, the Indians amassed a total of 493 $\frac{1}{4}$ points to their opponents 416 $\frac{3}{4}$ points. Johnson led the individual point scoring with 57 points, while Smither was a close second with 55 points.

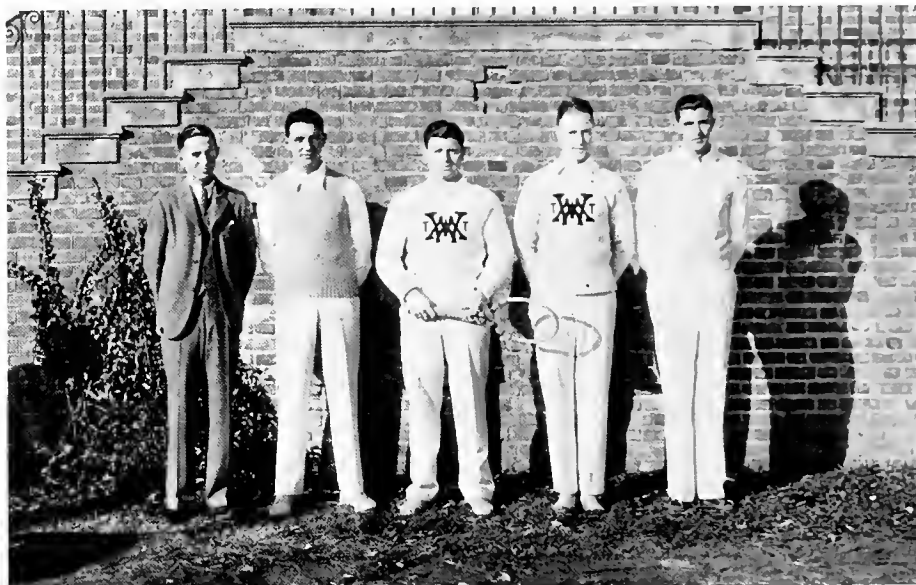

Swimming

Handicapped at the start of the season by the loss of Captain Lester Phillips, star dash man, the swimming outfit didn't encounter much success, winning but one meet out of four starts. The team was mostly made up of sophomores, which ought to insure a pretty fair season next year.

The opening meet with the University of Virginia proved to be a tough one for the gold and silver, the former winning easily by a score of 40-22. The one bright spot in the meet was Casey's win in the dive and 220-yard breaststroke. Washington and Lee, who had previously defeated W. and M., conquers, Virginia, emerged the victors in a close meet, the final count being 37-29. Casey was again outstanding, winning the dive and second in the 220 breast stroke. The best race of the day was the 440, in which Fred Brodney trailed for the majority of the race, but came from behind to overcome the leader by three yards. Delaware, the next opponent of the Indians, avenged last year's defeat by the same score of 32-30. In the final meet of the season, the braves completely submerged the George Washington outfit by a score of 49-17.

The letter men of the season were Meade, Alexander, Cuddihy, Flickenger, Brodney, Christerson, Casey, and Manager Roy Charles.

Captain John Lewis and his mates had a fair season, winning seven out of twelve matches. Early season defeats at the hands of Harvard, Virginia, and Hampden-Sydney started the aggregation off on the wrong foot, but later victories over Richmond, Maryland, and Catholic University helped to atone for the set-backs.

Howard turned in the best individual record, with Lewis and Joslyn also contributing some excellent tennis.

CHEER LEADER

FENCING TEAM

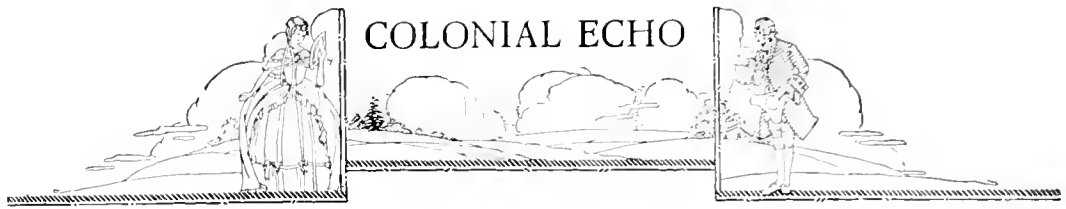

COACH "MEB" DAVIS

Meb Davis, versatile Indian athlete of a few years back, has returned to his Alma Mater in the capacity of Freshman coach. Already he has turned out some fine teams this year, and bids fair to make himself as valuable to William and Mary as a coach as he was as an athlete.

Meb constituted the receiving end of the famous Matsu-to-Davis forward pass combination of several seasons ago. In his senior year he was captain of three major sports, football, basketball, and track, an honor that is unsurpassed in the annals of William and Mary history. Making the All-State football team as an end, and setting records in the high and low hurdles are just other incidents of his brilliant athletic career here.

Coch Davis returns to William and Mary after having coached the teams of Fork Union Academy through two successful seasons. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity.

FRESHMAN SPORTS

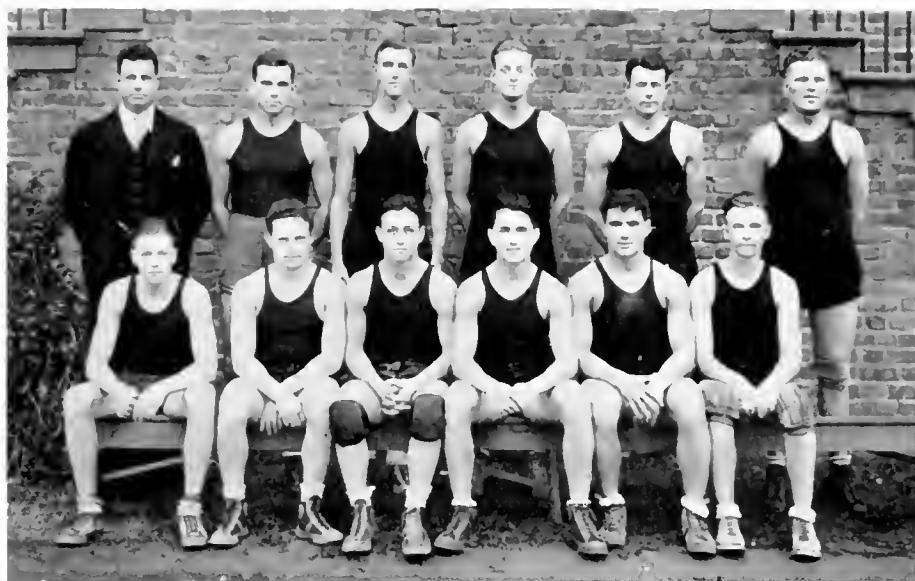

Freshman Football

Under the direction of Coach Davis and Assistant Coaches Frank Mozeleski and Charles Hagenberger, the freshman football aggregation climaxed a successful year by defeating Emerson Institute of Washington to give the team a record of five victories, one tie, and one defeat.

The opening game with Fort Eustice resulted in a win for the paposses, they impressively taking the soldiers into camp, 26-0. A week later the club journeyed to Lexington and battled a 0-0 draw with the W. and L. Generals, who were being coached by Cy Young, former William and Mary yearling coach. The frosh had several opportunities in this fray to score, but inexperience checked a win. Another soldier eleven, Fort Monroe, tasted defeat at the hands of the little Indians, 20-6, following which V. P. I. administered the sole defeat of the season to green, gold, and silver, 28-0. St. Johns frosh were beaten in a close ball game, the ducs winning on a pair of touchdowns by Palese and Henderson, 13-9. V. M. I. was again defeated as was the case last year, Chalko getting off on a long run for the only score of the game. Emerson concluded the season, the yearlings winning, 26-0.

The letter men of the season were several, and Bryl Fisher was elected captain of the team at the conclusion of the season.

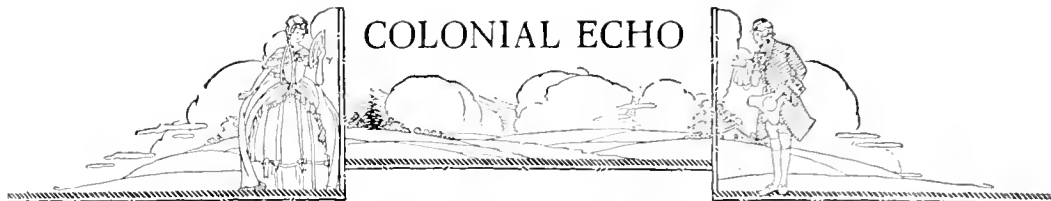

Freshman Basketball

A second successful season was accomplished by Meb Davis' basketball men winning ten out of eleven games. The sole loss was sustained by Fort Union Military Academy, the latter taking the dues over the traces, 38-32, after the dues had obtained a lead at the half of 18-15.

The season opened with a win over Langley Field, 40-20. Following the opening, the dues won a pair of battles over the Newport News and Norfolk Division fives by respective scores of 46-25 and 36-25. Maury High was defeated in a close tilt, 19-15, the yearlings scoring the final points in the last few minutes of play. The next victory proved to be Medical College frosh, who fell, 46-23. After Woodrow Wilson had been outclassed, 27-17, the little Indians scored the sweetest victory of the year in completely trouncing the Virginia five, 45-15. Benedictine proved much easier picking than had been expected, the frosh running up a 48-26 score. Fort Union then spoiled a perfect season, following which the dues concluded the year with a pair of victories over the Raymond Riordon School of New York, 28-14 and 42-24.

Litman and Whitehead were outstanding for the club, the former being high point scorer.

Freshman Track

Although competing in but five meets, the Papoose runners carried the tri-colors through a very successful season. The University of Richmond frosh were defeated by a large score, besides the four Tidewater high schools. The only meet lost was a triangular affair with Mercersburg Academy and the Navy plebes, with the prep school winning and the Little Indians getting second.

McKeowen, running in the 100 and 220, was the high scorer for the season; he also tied the frosh record in the 100. Other high lights of the season were Webb's performance in the pole vault, William's and Reid's in the high jump, and Meade's and Berkwitz's in the weights. Webb, Williams, and Meade established new freshman records in their events.

The squad was made up of Boniwell, Beach, McKeowen, Webb, Meade, Williams, Berkwitz, Roberts, Alexander, Uldrich, Reid, Casey, Flickenger, Harrell, Ware, Mann, Mannuf, and Sullivan.

Freshman Baseball

By winning a good majority of their baseball games last spring, the Little Indians were able to complete a most successful freshman sports calendar. Coach Kellison's frosh nine won thirteen out of fifteen games, included in which were victories over Virginia, the Navy Plebes, and Emerson Institute of Washington.

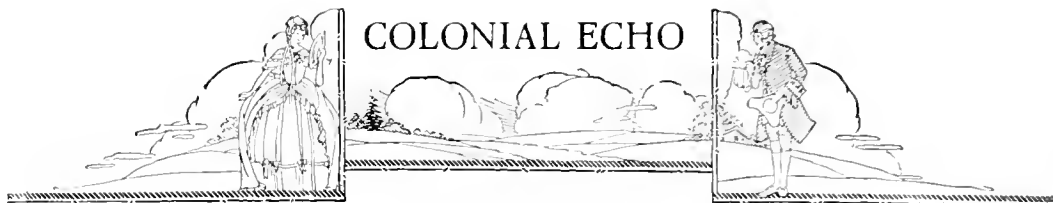

Letty White, freshman pitching ace, carved his name in the William and Mary Hall of Fame by hurling a no-hit, no-run game against the Navy Plebes. Dizenzo alternated with White in the box during the season.

The squad included: Christenson, Sorrell, Hogan, Ramsey, Dizenzo, Green, O'Neill, Roberts, White, Seminsky, McPherson, Friedman, Uldrich, Harkins, LaCroix, Marks, Hargrave, Thomson, Hines, and Feckler.

TIS said that many moons have passed—perhaps a hundred score—since Great Chief of College Laundry sent his son from Indian lore. He learned the ways of white men at King William's Institute. He learned to throw the basketball and—the baskets he did shoot brought our tribe to championship. They didn't lose a game, because there was no one to play—but champions just the same. And so athletics had their start. Boy, what a start they had! Of course their teams were not so good, and yet they weren't so bad. The Braves and Squaws and Papoose bands are champions all, it seems. They learned their lessons how to win from those, our ancient teams. Great Chief Setting "Billy" Gooch, with Tom Tom Kellie at his side, teach our fighting Braves to win—the foreign scalp and hostile hide. Before us came the Harvard tribe—their fighting feathers set, but after it was over, they all seemed slightly wet. The Eagles, Hornets, and the Wasps, the Spiders and the rest—though fighting bravely and always giving up their best, have failed to win our wampum belts, or put us to the trail. All hail, hail unto our honored braves, and may their glory never fail.

MISS MARTHA BARKSDALE

It is Miss Martha Barksdale to whom a large amount of the credit generally given to our women's athletic teams belongs. Miss Barksdale has been Head Woman's Coach at William and Mary since her graduation here in 1921. While a student here, she held the office of President of the Women's Student Government Association and participated in many sports. This combination of activities seems to have in a large measure prepared her for the work which she is accomplishing here so successfully. Under her able direction and encouragement, the Physical Education Department has become one of the foremost in the college. Not only is Miss Barksdale to be commended for her excellent work with the teams, but for her advice and guidance as an instructor.

We are justly proud of the records which our women have made in athletics, and we are sure that the standards which have been set are due in no small part to the work of Miss Martha Barksdale, Head Coach of Women's Athletics.

HOCKEY

HOCKEY action opened at William and Mary on November 1, when a tournament composed of representatives from eight Virginia women's colleges was played on the home field. Teams from Sweet Briar, Randolph-Macon, Westhampton, Harrisonburg, Farmville, Hollins, and George Washington responded to the invitation sent by William and Mary for a meet here. Although only about seventy persons were expected to attend the tournament, approximately one hundred and seventy attended. This tournament marked the beginning of what is hoped will be an annual affair. After the regular games between the teams of the various colleges, games were played between teams picked by the coaches. William and Mary had a number of players on both teams. William and Mary should be proud, indeed, to have sponsored this step in intercollegiate women's sports, since the success of this first tournament practically assures its continuance.

The teams made by the Indianettes included Sweet Briar and Harrisonburg. The Braves have long been William and Mary's oldest rivals and for the past several seasons have managed to top the local team in the hockey contests. This year the Braves played the Sweet Briar team for a win of 3-1. The game was fast and hard fought by both teams.

William and Mary seemingly catching on to their opponents' methods of playing more quickly than in former years. During the first half Young and Lindbergh each scored a goal for William and Mary, while Hanson scored the goal for the opposing team. In the last half Spettrum came through with a goal, making the score 3-1.

In the Harrisonburg game, Hudak was the outstanding player for William and Mary, making a goal at the beginning of the first half and also one during the last part of the game. Ed Harrisonburg, Dowen, Aether, and Watt each scored a goal against the locals, outscoring them by one shot.

The last game of the season was played against New York University on the home field. Here the Squaws met their first real opposition. Despite all the effort and fight which they could give to the Northern team, New York University broke through the ranks of the locals three times, not stopping until they had crossed William and Mary's goal line. The Indianettes showed well even in their defeat and not one player ceased fighting until the game was over.

The season may not have been one of excellent record judging from the scores made, but it showed what the William and Mary women are able to do in the face of various types of opponents.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL.

The first game of the Squaws' basketball season was played on the home courts against New York University, an old rival of William and Mary. In this game the locals defeated their opponents by a larger score than ever before, the game standing 33-5 at the finish. Brame, forward for W. & M., newcomer on the varsity, played an exceptionally good game. Winn, at guard, delivered the ball so quickly that her opponents had a hard time keeping track of it. Crane, a Duccess, showed up well at center.

The Sweet Briar team invaded Williamsburg only to lose to the locals. The Briarites have long been friends of the William and Mary teams, making the game particularly interesting. The game this year, however, was exceedingly slow in spots. The score at the finish was 27-22 in favor of the Indianettes. Dabney, at forward, showed up remarkably well, as did Roberts at guard.

Perhaps the best game of the season was played against the State Teachers College at Fredericksburg on the William and Mary Court. During the first half of the game the play was hard and fast, the Teachers becoming worn out at the end of this period. At the beginning of the second half numerous substitutions were made on the Squaw team. From this time on until the end of the game nearly all the members of the William and Mary squad were put in at various times. The game ended 39-19, in favor of the Indianettes.

The William and Mary team journeyed to Farmville, where it met its first defeat of the season. The Farmville team was good; it felt at home on the floor, and it played accordingly. The Squaws were entirely ill at ease and never properly got together. The brunt of the work during this game fell on the veteran guards, Winn and Roberts, who shouldered their responsibility well. The score stood 38-9 at the finish.

As this goes to press there are still two more games on the Squaw schedule. The locals are to play Savage in New York and a return game with Fredericksburg on the latter's court. According to the improvement which members of the squad have been making in their playing, the local team should have no trouble with their next opponents.

Crane, Ford, and Lowry, who were not given place on the team mentioned above, should be given especial mention here. These players alternated with those previously mentioned during the entire season. Because of the many equally good players on the squad this year, it was impossible to choose a team of only six players as the true Squaw team.

MISCELLANEOUS SPORTS

Miscellaneous Sports

Although women's spring sports are not inter-collegiate at William and Mary, with the exception of tennis, great rivalry centers in the intermural and interclass games. In baseball especially, there is keen interest in the two teams, Junior-Freshman and Senior-Sophomore. In the spring of 1930, the former, under the direction of its Head, Frances Booth, defeated the latter by a score of three games to one. The Senior-Sophomore team was headed by Mary Dabney.

Track, captained by Vivian Dreyer, perhaps creates more interest than any of the spring sports, because there is always great competition in attempting to break the records which have been set in previous years. Four of these letters were broken last year when Pearl Young ran the fifty yard dash in 6.2 seconds, and the hurdles in 8.8 seconds. Agnes Winn threw the discus for a distance of 92'9", and Lee Chewning threw the baseball 195 feet. Virginia Romm tied the college record for the seventy yard dash by running it in 9.6 seconds.

Beaver College tennis team invaded Williamsburg to defeat the Indiannettes by a score of 3-2. Beale defeated Sterner, while Chewning and Dunleavy lost to Perry and Nagle. In the doubles, Maffett and Booth defeated Cox and Nagle, Chewning and Wickham losing to Ferry and Sterner.

The Squaws played the George Washington team on the latter's home courts and were again defeated, this time by a score of 6-0. In this match, the William and Mary players were decidedly outclassed, although they played their best. Even Maffett and Beal, star players for the Indiannettes, seem to have been off their game.

Corinne Hancock, as Head, saw to it that the 1930 team was well managed as well as captained.

Last spring archery was revived at William and Mary. This was the first time that it had been given here for a number of years. Much interest was taken in it, however, and it is believed that if such is the case in the future, it will become a recognized sport. Miss Roberts has entire charge of the instruction. Although the records set last year were not very high, they show work and interest on the part of the participants.

Swimming classes are conducted each semester for those who wish to learn this art. Due to the size of the pool, there is little competition in this sport, the climax of the season coming when life saving tests are given.

The H2E Club, although not a sport, should be given mention also. The name of the club contains the symbols of the three things it stands for, those being, Health, Happiness, and Efficiency. Only women who are Physical Education majors may become members. Other requirements for membership include an average above 80 for the semester previous to that in which consideration is made by the club and a unanimous vote by the club members.

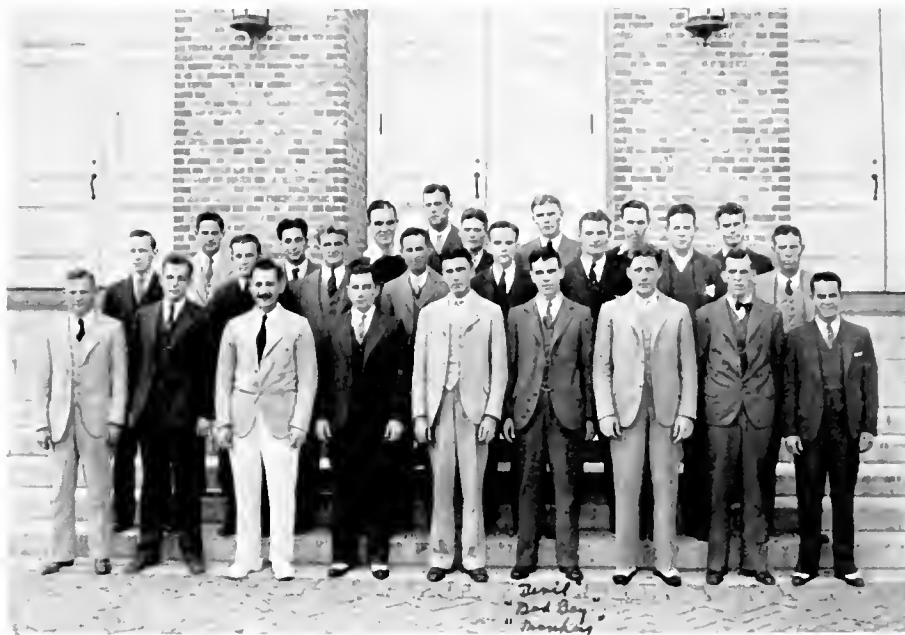

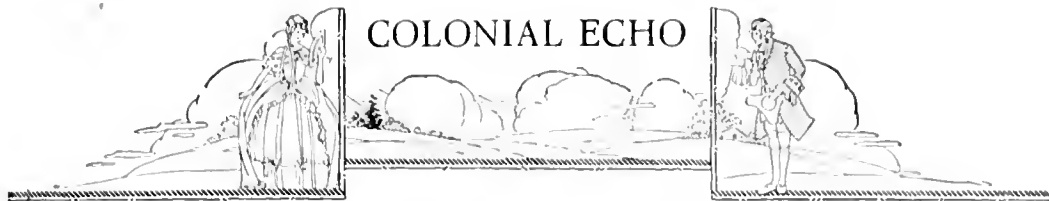

H2E promotes physical education on campus, entertains visiting teams, and in all matters pertaining to the welfare of the department is vitally concerned.

PHI BETA KAPPA HALL

There are several honorary organizations at the College which concern all fields of work, both scholastic and forensic activity.

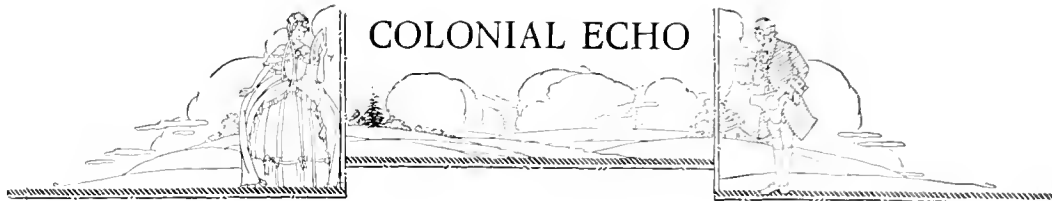

Two of the leading organizations have their founding at William and Mary, Phi Beta Kappa, the highest scholastic society in the United States, and the F. H. C. Society, which is the oldest college society now in existence.

Omicron Delta Kappa and Mortar Board are the organizations on the campus whose members are the outstanding students of the College. Both of these are national organizations and are well known all over the country.

The remainder of the societies take in members who have distinguished themselves in the field of activity covered by the respective societies.

Phi Kappa Phi is an organization which recognizes scholastic attainment. It selects its members from those students who have consistently maintained an excellent average on their studies during their four years at college. Nominations for membership are made by the heads of the various departments and elections are held once a year, during the spring term. Only seniors or graduate students are eligible at William and Mary.

Omicron Delta Kappa was founded with the purpose of bringing together in one body, for the general good of the institution, all leaders in various forms of college activities. Membership is restricted to men. It recognizes eminence in scholarship, athletics, campus life, literary and forensic attainments, and college publications. Its ideals are: Recognition, inspiration, opportunity, character. It is recognized as one of the highest honors that can be given an undergraduate student.

Mortarboard is a national women's honor society, whose members are elected in their junior year on the three-fold basis of scholarship, leadership and personality. The local chapter of Alpha Club was founded in 1918, when women students were first admitted to the college, and is the oldest co-ed organization at William and Mary. It was installed as a part of the national organization of Mortarboard in December, 1929. It endeavors to contribute some valuable service to the college each year, to foster and encourage scholarship and a wholesome college spirit. Mortarboard is the only women's senior honorary society in the United States.

Alpha Kappa Psi was the first professional commercial fraternity and the first national fraternity to admit students of evening colleges to active membership. Membership is limited to bonafide candidates for a degree in commerce or business administration. The ideals of the fraternity are to stimulate scientific research in business, to promote higher ideals in business, and to enlarge college courses leading to degrees in business.

Phi Delta Gamma was established to maintain and stimulate a greater interest in the work of literary societies, debate clubs, and dramatic organizations in colleges and universities. It seeks to establish on a firm basis intersociety debates and forensic contests, and emphasizes intersociety rather than intercollegiate forensics. Membership in the local chapter is offered to those who have done distinctive work in some line of forensic work.

MISS ALTHEA HUNT

Five years ago the College of William and Mary enjoyed, for the first time, the benefits and pleasures that only a definitely organized, energetic, and reputable dramatic group can offer. Five years ago Miss Althea Hunt came to the College and inaugurated a class in Play Production, as nearly as may be ascertained, the first of its kind in Virginia.

Throughout these five triumphant seasons of William and Mary dramatics (seasons of twelve months duration), Director Althea Hunt has been constantly at the helm, ambitious, spreading the fame of the William and Mary Players, educating her audiences to better things without their suspecting it in the least; and behind her in every project have been the loyal Players, in whom she has instilled explicit faith and admiration, the will to progress harmoniously as a team of friendly artists—her cohorts, her friends, her students, whom she has trained and handled so efficiently.

In the fall of 1926, Miss Althea Hunt tucked William and Mary dramatics under her arm, donned her seven league boots and strode out, with ultimate Thule as her goal. Her gigantic strides have brought her far, but for one who travels so diligently and so well, there may yet be other lands to conquer.

DRAMATIC SCENES

Dramatics

UNDER the leadership of director Althea Hunt, William and Mary Dramatics have gone far in the last five years, with the William and Mary Players, Theta Alpha Phi, the Dramatic Club, the Senior Class, and the Play Production Classes, all acting as producers. Starting from scratch, the dramatic department of the college has expanded until now it has included in its curriculum such courses as Play Production, Directing, Educational Dramatics, Stage Design, Play Writing, Dramatic Criticism, and numerous courses in the survey of Dramatic Literature.

Director Hunt's first production in 1926 was privately presented in the chapel of the main building without footlights or other essential equipment. The first public performance was "The Goose Hangs High," the play which formally opened Phi Beta Kappa Hall as a "theater". In 1927 the custom of presenting a Christmas play was inaugurated with the production of "You and I." The same year a play was taken to West Point for a showing; and five programs of one-act plays were presented at the College.

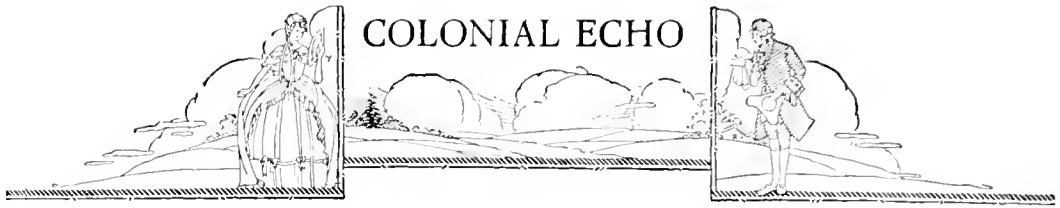

The ambitious program was furthered in 1928 when the Players presented "The Taming of the Shrew" as the first annual Shakespearian play. Miss Hunt's students directed plays at the Williamsburg High School for the first time in 1928, and active summer programs were offered for the first time. During this, the third year of organized play production, the players produced five long plays and twenty-four one-act plays. The 1929-30 season saw the "Mollusc" go on tour to Schenectady and Hampton. The first dramatic tournament of Tidewater, Virginia, High Schools was held at the College at the instigation of Miss Hunt and under the supervision of the Players. The 1930-1931 season witnessed the accomplishment of the spectacular and far-famed "Vergilian Pageant", the introduction (by popular demand) of the two-night plan of producing all plays, the taking of "Just Suppose" to Wellesley College and to Hampton, the ambitious staging of "The Merchant of Venice."

The William and Mary Players have long been known for their democracy of spirit and of managership. That, coupled with wide, active interest, has resulted in their strenuous programs and high standard of artistic accomplishment. Not only is it a strange coincidence, but of the greatest significance that an even ninety distinct student names appear in the casts of the calendar. If we include the "Vergilian Pageant", the newcomers swell the above figures to one hundred and eighty-four. It is not uncommon for the tryouts to draw over two hundred hopeful actors and actresses, and most of the times we find that all of them actually get their fingers in the Thespianic Pie during the year.

PAGEANT SCENES

Vergil Once More

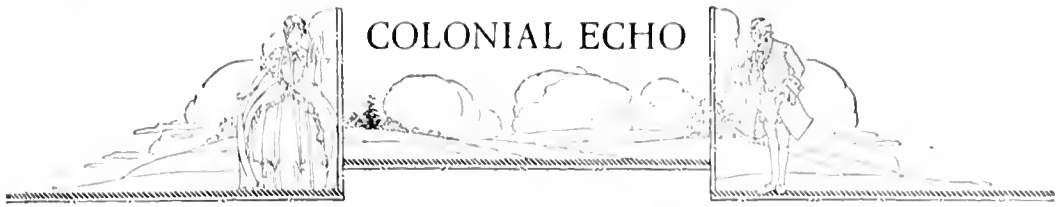

THE oldest chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the Alpha of Virginia, rejoiced to honor Vergil on the two thousandth anniversary of his natal day, October fifteenth. As if by necromancy, true Vergilian magic, the clouds lifted some hours before the presentation, the stars appeared, and all omens were favorable.

An elaborate stage setting had been erected with an irregular row of six tall trees as rear curtain and side drops. On the left, the gray-blue cliffs arose impressively; on the other side the turfed and bushy incline suggested a toilsome ascent for Sisyphus with his stone. From the overhanging trees swung filmy, dull-toned streamers, vaguely indicative of the bodiless forms of Dreams. Amber, blue, red, green, violet lights playing over the simulated rocks, on the tremulous, living trees along the stiffly sombre baskets of pine, and the ever shifting human figures, revealed a realm not unfitting a great poet's imagination.

The prologue and the epilogue written by Mary Sinton Leitch, whose name is familiar in Braithwaite's Anthology, conformed to the rimed couplets of Dryden's translation of the Aeneid, from which Dr. A. P. Wagener, head of the Department of Ancient Languages, had drawn the five hundred or more lines of the pageant. The youthful voices of the carefully-trained actors carried well to the some eighteen hundred or two thousand spectators. In addition to the singers and the musicians, the cast included eighteen speaking characters, among the most conspicuous being, of course, Aeneas, the Sibyl, Anchises, and Charon, who poled his boat in a rushy pool. Among the hundred silent characters were the allegorical figures of Sleep, Care, Sorrow, Disease, Old Age, Famine, Death, monsters, such as Hydra, the Gorgons, Chimera, the giant Briareus, with enough hands to suggest the entire hundred. Shades of the Dead, the Spirits of Children, heroes and heroines met by Aeneas in the Lower World, moved in dream-like fashion to music written for the occasion by Professor George M. Small, with two recurrent themes in D and G minor, one for the Sibyl, one for Aeneas. Commanding the centre stage in two scenes loomed the throne of Minos and of the assistant judges, metallic in its blackness and enhancing the colors of the victims who passed by. Later came warriors in gleaming helmets, athletes, dancers, kings of Rome, heroes, matrons, mingling in a richly varied throng. Of unforgettable horror was the scene in Tartarus, illumined by red fire from behind. The stifled cries of the damned, the groaning bodies prone on the ground or writhing against the funerially-dark evergreen thickets gave new meaning to the superb poetry of Vergil's most impressive book.

Miss Althea Hunt, director of dramatics at William and Mary, in this her first outdoor pageant of the college, won great success. The presentation was pictorial, finished judiciously, designed to arouse a sense of haunting gloom and mystery, and triumphant peace.

MR. GEORGE SMALL

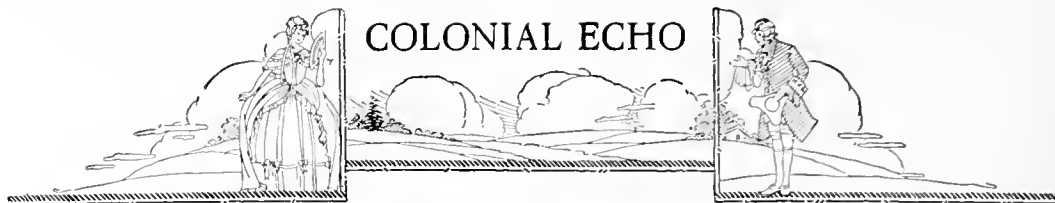

Professor George Small was brought to the College from Hanover College, Hanover, Indiana. At Hanover he was head of the music department for three years. Prior to that time he was director of public school music in Shelbyville, Indiana, and organized a system of music which is still in operation.

At William and Mary, Mr. Small is head of the department of academic and applied music courses. Last year he organized the College Band, which grew this past year into the most complete band ever to represent the College. In the same year he organized the first official college choir.

Under Mr. Small, the first artists series came to William and Mary, in 1930-1931. The Men's Glee Club also prospered under Mr. Small's direction, and gave several radio programs, took part in the Southern Intercollegiate contest, and gave two musical shows. The first of these was "Pirates of Penzance," the first complete operatic work to be given here. The second was a musical comedy and was received with much approval. Mr. Small has also the college orchestra under his control, and we all feel sure that this group will come out on top, as has the other musical functions.

The Young Men's Christian Association at the college has for a long time done an important work in standing for a high spiritual life among its members and working throughout the college for the advancement of Christianity. The meetings of the association are often addressed by the ministers of the town, by members of the faculty, by student members of the association, and by visiting speakers. A feature of the work of the organization for the last two years has been the sponsoring of fitting programs that have been broadcast over WTAR at Norfolk, Va., and received with widespread enthusiasm.

The Y. W. C. A. at William and Mary was formed in the spring of 1920 and has been growing rapidly ever since. It has now become a strong influence on the campus. Under its auspices are held regular meetings, both secular and devotional, through which interest is aroused in affairs of importance in the world, in charities, and in missions. The association plans formal entertainments for the pleasure of the student and organizes trips to neighboring places of interest.

Four publications are found on the campus of William and Mary: "The Flat Hat," "Colonial Echo," "William and Mary Literary Magazine," and "The Indian Handbook."

"The Flat Hat" is the weekly, being published every Friday, and this year it was named second best weekly in the State of Virginia by the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association.

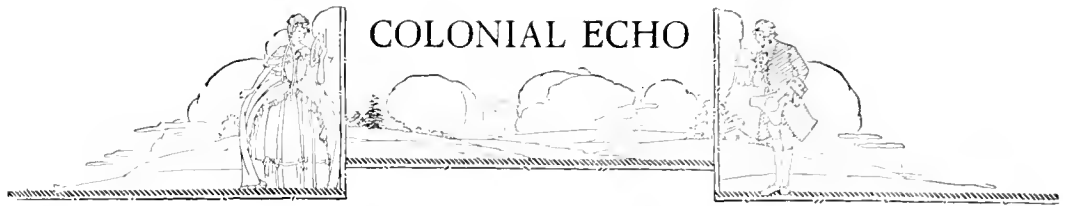

"The Colonial Echo" is the name of the yearbook. "The Literary Magazine" is published monthly, and was named the best literary magazine in the state this year.

In the summer, "The Indian Handbook" is mailed to all prospective students. It is commonly called the "Duc Bible."

All the publications are controlled by a Publication Board consisting of three professors appointed by the administration.

MAIN WALK

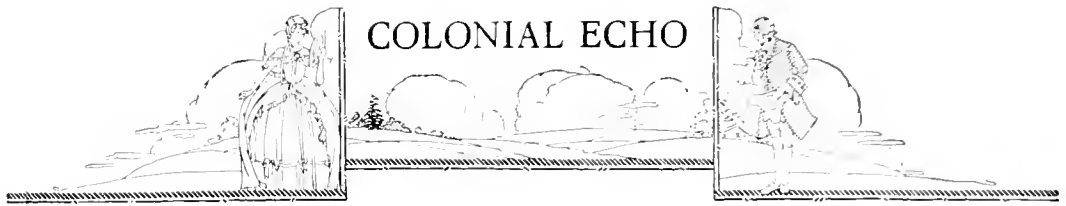

At the College of William and Mary, the students are governed by Student Government, which is composed of two organizations, the Men's Student Body and the Women's Student Government Association.

The Men's Student Body is headed by the president, assisted by the vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. These officers are elected yearly in May, and are elected from the members of the senior class. They conduct the affairs pertaining to the Men's Student Body.

The Women's Student Government Association is divided into three committees, Executive, Judicial, and Honor. Each committee is headed by a chairman. The officers are elected in the spring of each year.

GETTING ON IN THE WORLD

The problem of "getting on in the world" becomes a tremendously important issue when college days are over.

It does not seem possible to exaggerate the opportunity presented by the profession of Life Insurance to the young man who is willing to prepare himself, work hard, and operate systematically.

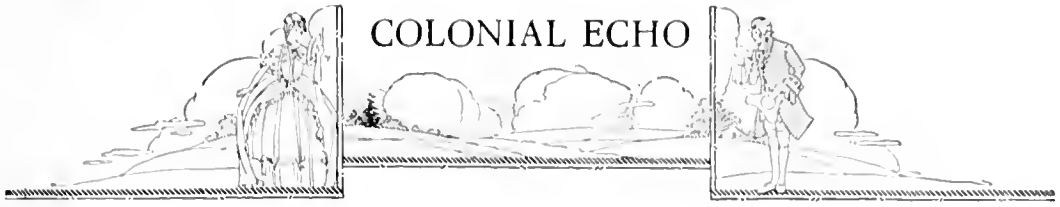

This company has many favorable openings and invites inquiries from college men.

in September. I hope it may have as happy an ending as the last one did. For you this new chapter is more or less the beginning of the book - for me it's the end - of many things, most of them good and lovely. Then what? I sometimes wonder.

I am looking forward with much joy to our year together in the Pi Phi House.
It will mean everything to me. I know I'm going to be very happy.

Well, darling girl, as usual, I have taken more than my share of your time.
But I'm not sorry.

"There is a wonderful thing that I ^{can't} ^{buy} cannot purchase - a blessing that's rare and true and that is the gift of a wonderful friend like the friend I have found in you."

I shall always love you -

Beane.
